

Academic Head & Neck Surgical Oncologist

Queen's University Department of Surgery (www.surgery.queensu.ca) invites applications for a Geographic Full-time Academic Otolaryngology surgeon who has accredited American fellowship training in Head & Neck surgical oncology and microvascular reconstruction. The successful candidate will be required to collaborate with Plastic and General Surgeons at the Kingston General and Hotel Dieu Hospitals as well as physicians in cognate departments, including Oncology. Candidates must have an excellent record of success working in multi-disciplinary clinical environments.

Applicants will exhibit strong potential for academic contributions and scholarly research. Preference will be given to applicants who demonstrate a potential for establishing and sustaining a research program. There will be ample opportunity for collaboration with researchers both within the department and the University, including the Queen's Cancer Research Institute and the Queen's Institute for Clinical Evaluative Sciences (ICES). As a full time member of the Department of Surgery, the successful candidate will also be expected to contribute to the teaching, supervision and mentorship of undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate students. Successful applicants will have demonstrated the potential to make outstanding educational contributions.

Qualified applicants will hold an MD degree (or equivalent), have completed postgraduate / fellowship qualifications prior to appointment, and be eligible for licensure with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario and certification from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada. Preference will be given to candidates with a PhD.

Queen's University is recognized nationally for the quality of its undergraduate and graduate programs, which attract outstanding students. Queen's University is an integral part of the vibrant Kingston community in the heart of the Thousand Islands region of southeastern Ontario. It has a community spirit and amenities unmatched by any other Canadian university. The University and the region offer an outstanding academic and community environment (www.queensu.ca).

The review of applications will begin on November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Applications are to include a letter summarizing expertise, qualifications, and accomplishments relevant to the position, a CV, and the names and full contact information of three referees. Complete applications are to be directed to: Dr. John Rudan, Head, Department of Surgery, Queen's University, Victory 3, Kingston General Hospital, Kingston, Ontario, K7L 2V7, Fax: (613) 544-9174, Email: deptsurgery@KGH.kari.net.

Queen's is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and invites applications from all qualified individuals. We welcome applications from women, visible minorities, Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ and persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority. To comply with Federal laws, the University is obliged to gather statistical information about how many applicants for each job vacancy are Canadian citizens / permanent residents of Canada. Applicants need not identify their country of origin or citizenship, however, all applications must include one of the following statements: "I am a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada"; OR, "I am not a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada". Applications that do not include this information will be deemed incomplete.

The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant's accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during the interview process, please contact the Department of Surgery at the email or fax number above.
